Sponsored by the Greater Portland Arts Council with the aid of a grant from Model Cities to the City of Portland Department of Parks and Recreation.

We are extremely thankful for all the many individuals who have contributed to the GPAC to make this summer's activities possible.
The Portland Summer Symphony is comprised principally of members of the Portland Symphony Orchestra with some members of the Portland Junior Symphony and the Community Orchestra of the Portland Symphony. This is the third concert of the summer for this orchestra.

This concert is one of a series of arts events being presented at no cost to residents of Greater Portland and particularly Model Cities residents. A grant was awarded by Model Cities to the Greater Portland Arts Council through the Portland Recreation Department. It is hoped that future events will be possible through similar grants and your letters to Model Cities and the Recreation Department to this effect would be appreciated.

The Portland Symphony Orchestra will open its 47th season October 26 when cellist Leonard Rose appears with Paul Vermel and the orchestra. A new "Celebrity Series" will be initiated October 13 with Dave Brubeck as guest artist with the orchestra. Duke Ellington will also appear later in the year. For information on season tickets to the Subscription Series, Celebrity Series, Chamber Series with the Portland Symphony String Quartet, or any special events, call the PSO office, 773-8191.
