PORTLAND SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, 30 MYRTLE STREET, PORTLAND, MAINE 04101
Boy Singers of Maine brings together talented boys, ages 7-13, from the Greater Portland area and trains them in the European choirboy tradition. The group performs more than twenty concerts annually and provides an opportunity for individual growth through a well-rounded musical experience. Membership in the Boy Singers of Maine is open to all musically qualified boys by audition.

Edward F. Cetto is in his second year as director of the Boy Singers of Maine. He is director of the Chancel Choir at First Congregational Church in South Portland, an assistant conductor of two large choral societies in Boston, and is completing his Master's degree in Choral Conducting at Boston Conservatory. Mr. Cetto is a graduate of the Hartt School of Music and is a tubist and jazz pianist.

Available at all Bookland stores

DR. CARL METZGER
The Portland Community Chorus, the core group of the PSO’s Magic of Christmas Chorus, has been performing choral music in the Portland area since 1978. The Chorus has grown from eight to eighty-five members and is a diverse group of teachers, executives, homemakers, professionals, retirees, students and many others who enjoy singing. The Magic of Christmas Chorus begins its preparation in November and devotes many hours of rehearsal and performance time to help create the “magic” of this successful event.

The group has performed with the PSO in Verdi’s “Requiem” and “A Cole Porter Celebration,” and with the Portland Symphony Community Orchestra in Mendelssohn’s “Hymn of Praise” and Gounod’s “Saint Cecelia Mass.” The Portland Community Chorus enjoys providing a variety of musical presentations in the greater Portland area through its diverse community outreach programs.

Stewart Shuster is the conductor of the Portland Community Chorus, music director at Trinity Episcopal Church and is the founder of the Choral Art Society. Originally coming to Maine to accept a summer position as music director of the Ocean Park Summer Assembly, Stewart and his wife Margery have lived in Maine for twenty-seven years.

A graduate of both Glassboro, N.J., State College and Westminster Choir College, Mr. Shuster taught music at the University of Southern Maine and at St. Joseph’s College for many years. He is a realtor with Albert Realty Group and maintains a studio for the study of singing and the correction of vocal problems.
